GET MARRIED BY THE SEA

Right on the seafront in Lyme Regis, the Marine Theatre is Dorset's most beautiful fully-licensed wedding venue.

There's room for up to 400 people, and we can help with everything from bands to food.

Email office@marinetheatre.com to arrange a viewing.

TICKETS

ONLINE

Book anytime at marinetheatre.com.

PHONE

Call 01308 424901 to book a ticket from 9 A.M. to 5 P.M.

MEMBERS

There is a 10% discount on tickets for members of the Marine Theatre. Please check for exceptions when booking.

IN PERSON

Advance tickets are available from the Marine on Mondays from 10 A.M. until 1 P.M. and from Lyme Regis Bookshop and the Bridport Tourist Information Centre during opening hours. On the door tickets are available at the Marine from an hour before each show.

REFUNDS

Tickets will not be refunded except when an event is cancelled or postponed.

BOOKING FEES

These are charged by vendors to provide their services. The Lyme Regis Bookshop charges £1 per ticket. Tickets purchased online or from the Bridport Tourist Information Centre have a 10% booking fee. To avoid a booking fee, tickets can be purchased from the Marine on Monday mornings.

VISITORS' INFORMATION

Normally the bar and box office open an hour before an event starts.

The start time is when the event begins, which could be a support act. Unless stated, events have unreserved seating.

For more detailed information, please see the Your Visit page on our website at marinetheatre.com.

PROGRAMME

This booklet is made from recycled paper and is carbon neutral.

ACCESSIBILITY

ACCESS

We have level access to our auditorium and downstairs bar. There is an accessible toilet.

Unfortunately our upstairs bar is not accessible by wheelchair.

Our staff and volunteers are happy to help you to enjoy your visit, so please advise us of accessibility requirements by emailing office@marinetheatre.com.

HEARING LOOP

Our hearing loop lets you hear the performance more clearly through your hearing aid. You'll need to switch your hearing aid or CI to the hearing loop setting (also known as the 'T' setting or program). The signal from the hearing loop should cover all seating areas.

CARERS

Carers receive a complimentary ticket when accompanying a ticket holder, but should show an access card with a +1 symbol on it.

To ask for a carer's ticket please email office@marinetheatre.com

SEATING

We can reserve space for wheelchairs and mobility scooters at shows. Seating at standing shows is available for those with access needs; please ask a member of staff.

DOGS

Assistance animals are permitted in the Marine, but pets are not.

MORE?

Tell us ways we can be more accessible! Email suggestions for consideration to office@marinetheatre.com

COMMUNITY

Over the last five years we've been making the Marine an even more important part of the community by widening participation in arts and culture. We welcome performers from diverse backgrounds, so all members of the community are represented on stage. We relaunched the Marine Youth Theatre with bursaries - an introduction to performing for children. There is something for everyone each month. We make sure there are free and cheap events. Increasingly we've created opportunities to perform or get involved with Community Plays, Sunday Sessions, Senior Creative sessions, volunteering, and Play Reading Groups. But if you just want to sit and watch or look at the view, that's fine too!

VOLUNTEERING

Whether it's ushering, hosting performers, or even DIY, there are lots of ways to support the running of our busy venue. If you have time to spare and would like to get involved, please email friends@marinetheatre.com.

WELCOME

Autumn came in quickly, didn't it? Although we miss the Summery lunchtime walks, when you work in a theatre it's hard not to get excited as the days shorten. That's because the Marine is here with a huge programme as we hunker in to the colder months, getting together to share in community and culture.

Our recent Summer Rep season grew on last year - over 2500 tickets were sold across the five weeks. Naturally we want more! So this Christmas, Gilroy Theatre return. Su and her team are staging It's a Wonderful Life. I know the film well, and am excited to see how it's adapted for a live audience. There is one certainty however: it will be wonderful! There's plenty more theatre with a modern day adaptation of Jane Eyre, a seaside story called Salt, and the return of comic duo Living Spit - they take on the Greek Myths this time.

The Comedy Club has been getting increasingly popular. Simon Brodtkin headlines in October; he's known for his high profile stunts such as handing Teresa May her P45 and showering Donald Trump with golf balls.

I started working here in late 2017 and one of the first memorable shows of the following year was This is the Kit. Since then, they've got bigger so I am pleased they return this October.

Enjoy the Marine!

MUSIC

JOHN OTWAY

SATURDAY 29 NOVEMBER

An English singer-songwriter who has built a sizeable cult audience through extensive touring, a surreal sense of humour and a self-deprecating underdog persona. Otway had to wait until 1977 and the rise of punk before his dream of fame and fortune would finally become a reality. Having caught the eye of the producers of the BBC's Old Grey Whistle Test, Otway's performance on that show would grab the attention of the watching audience. Since then he's had a sturdy following!
